“ Danny and I just wanted to let you know that we're thinking of you and so sorry for your loss. We never get over the loss of our loved ones. We get through it, learn a new way of living, but they're always on our minds. We hope you find peace for your aching heart and solace in the good times you guys had together. They say our loved ones are never far from us. You may even feel them around. I like knowing they're near. Here's to Bryan and celebrating his life.
