“ Grandma,
I woke up this morning thinking of you and I remember an old song going through my head.

I will continue to carry on your tradition that back door guests are best and that "Ewe's not fat, ewe's just fluffy." My mother always said that I got my good heart from you, Grandma. I want you to know that this is a part of you that I will always carry on. This isn't goodbye, it's just a see you later.
