“ I remember when my sister LaDawn and I were younger, we would go over to your house and play with Ted, Mike and Shelly. We would play tag or watch television. Your mom would cook me hamburger patties too eat, because she thought I was too skinny and I would blow away if it was too windy. She was a very sweet lady and your dad was nice too. I am blessed that I knew both of them.

“ Polly, was the best sister anyone could ask for, being three years older than me, she was always trying to protect me. Polly was so giving, always thinking of others before her self. I will always cherish the memories we had, as sisters we shared secrets that will never be revealed, we have laughed and cried together. She suffered through this horrible disease for so long, and she never complained. She is now at rest and no more suffering. I love you Polly with all of my heart. <3
