“ Dearest Marlene, I am just recently finding out about your passing. Gosh.... where do I start?? We go way back to when I was so young.. You being married to Indian and all the memories I have of you I will now deeply cherish. May you Rest In Peace in your eternal home with angels. Hope you and my grandma are having a blast up there catching up on old memories. Love you Aunt Marlene... and thanks for your help and support you shared when my grandma passed away that hot July morning.. Gone but never forgotten.

“ In an tragedy that happens as fast and as swift as this its hard to understand why and how this has happened. There are so many words that can never be said and quite a few that never should have been spoken and the too lates will always be. I wouldn't be the man that I am today if you hadn't been my mom and though it was rarely said I know you loved me and I always will love you. You will always be in my heart and forever in my mind. Go in peace and I will see you when I see you. Love you mom Ricky

I think it's taken me a few days for the thought of you actually being gone has hit me. We haven't spoken much in the last few years, but at one point you were my best friend and at one point I was very close to you. We've all had our faults, nasty words, and hateful remarks. I'm sorry that I let hard feelings get in the way of that. Rest In Peace Grandma. Love you

“ *I've known Marlene for a long time.
She always had a smile & a joke to tell.
She loved her family & friends.
She will be missed dearly.*
