“ Terry was always so kind and interesting. He painted my office and he and his crew did such a wonderful job that I ended up hiring them to paint another entire house and do a couple of other jobs. He was sincerely a nice guy and will be greatly missed.

“ Terry was frequently over at his parents, my Aunt Lois and Uncle Genes, when I came to visit them.
I was always glad to see him, and happy he was checking in on his parents. I ask them if Terry would be interested in painting my house, on one of my visits. They told me what a good painter he was and that they would have him hollar at me if he was available. Terry contacted me, came by and I showed him around. With all the earthquakes, there was substantial damage done to my walls. This did not intimidate Terry in the slightest bit. I gave him the key and he and his friend came in and made our walls look amazing! My realtor was so impressed she wanted his phone number. She said, I thought you said you used your cousin, not a professional. I said, my cousin is a professional.
Terry did an incredible job and I was so grateful!
He was a hard worker and took pride in his work.
He helped raise my cousins, two really incredible people! His daughter teaches children how to express themselves through art. She helps challenged children through horse therapy. And she's a librarian. How in the world she finds time to help her husband and his business and do aerial exercises I have no idea.
His son is just as diligent with his time and his heart, in life. He works for Vance AFB, made exceptional quality cabinets, and is thoroughly involved in his son's career as an amazing singer and guitarist in his youth group and professionally.

People who aren't raised with it do not have that kind of work ethic, and aren't the blessing to the community, as these children of Terry Layton certainly are.
