“ I met Grandma Toni a couple of years ago. She didn't get out often due to her health, but she was always a gracious hostess and glad to have visitors. Our family spent several hours with she and Grandpa Rick, listening to her memories of Eric and his cousins, her hopes for his music to be heard by many, and her love of the Word of God and teachings of faithful pastors. Ms. Toni's heart for her family filled her days with joy.

But her love wasn't limited to her family. She genuinely cared about the hearts of others. I was blessed to overhear a conversation between Eric and my daughter, who had just suffered through a terrible day. Eric had no words of comfort for her, but offered what he had. He said, "Let's go visit Grandma Toni. She'll listen to you and will know just what to say to make you feel better." And she did.

There are precious few people like Toni in this world. Her passing is a tremendous loss for those who knew and loved her. But as a believer in Jesus Christ, I have reason to rejoice. I know that Toni loved and served her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Because of her belief in His sacrificial death, today she is with Him in Heaven. Toni will never suffer, never face another moment of pain, nor shed a single tear. If today you don't have the assurance in Jesus Christ that Toni did, choose today His way: admit that He is the way to eternal salvation, believe that His death paid the price you owe and confess to God that He is your Lord and Savior and follow His example.

My prayers are with you, Grandpa Rick, and the family that loved her so much. Your loss is great and pray the Holy Spirit comforts you.
